

ROOSEVELT MUST
FACE COMMITTEEMay Have to Tell Something About Campaign Contributions of the Past

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—After a telephone conference today with Oscar K. Davis, of the New York Third Term headquarters, senator Clapp announced that Friday, October 4, would be set by the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures for the appearance of Colonel Roosevelt. The hearing will be resumed next Monday.

Washington Third Termers have been engaged in preparations for the candidates visit to the city. Many proposals have been made for his entertainment at private homes but these have been declined and a suite has been reserved at a downtown hotel.

Subpoenas have been sent to New York by a senate sergeant at arms for service upon General Counsel Elliott and secretary of the standard oil company in connection with the statements that he contributed $100,000 to the Roosevelt fund of 1904 in behalf of the standard oil company. The two officials are required to produce any papers they may have bearing upon the transaction, the committee having called them in an effort to discover the receipt which Mr. Archbold said had been given him by Cornelius Bliss, then treasurer of the republican national committee.

Senator Clapp made public today the names of the majority of the witnesses who are to be heard by the committee. The list includes J. P. Morgan, H. C. Fring, Albert H. Gray, George W. Perkins, William R. Hearst, Thomas P. Ryan, Former Senator Chauncey M. Depew, William Leahy, George B. Cortelyou, Alton B. Parker, George R. Sheldon, Cornelius N. Bliss Jr., and C. C. Tugth.

The broad character of the investigation that is to be made to determine whether campaign contributions have influenced tariff legislation is indicated in the character of the witnesses. Among them are William Whitman and William M. Wood of Boston two leading figures in the woolen industry; Edwin F. Green, J. R. MacColl, Charles H. Harding, and John P. Wood, all of Boston; N. T. Folwell, Philadelphia; Joseph R. Grundy, Bristol Pa.; B. F. Jones, Jr., a steel manufacturer of Pittsburgh; Henry L. Towne of New York; John Kirby, Jr., Dayton, O. and Fred Schwedman and D. J. Challenger of St. Louis, all are manufacturers or interested in important industries.

Wayne McVeagh, former attorney general of the United States and brother of Secretary McVeagh of the treasury department also has been asked to appear.

It is understood that the specific purpose of summoning J. Pierpont Morgan and Mr. McVeagh is to

JOB TEAMSTER
HELD UP AND
ROBBED OF MONEYEscaped Naval Convict Is Thought to Have Done the Job

A young man named Stevens who is employed by Rufus Woods the local job teamster, was held up and robbed in Kittery, near the Eliot bridge about 9 o'clock Wednesday evening. The young man had been to Eliot to get a piano, and was on his return to this city. He had just crossed the bridge and was ascending the hill when a man stepped out of the woods and commanded him to stop and hold up his hands. The frightened youth complied with the request and he was quickly relieved of his loose change, fifty five cents. The man then disappeared in the woods and Stevens continued on his way to this city. The robbery is thought to have been committed by Floyd E. Rale, the naval convict who escaped from the prison ship South-bry on Wednesday afternoon.

There Will be Work at Yard

The Herald man met Secretary of the navy George L. Von Meyer at Hamilton and Wenhams yesterday and talked over with him the needs of the Portsmouth navy yard. The Herald believes that there will be no lay off here when the present ships leave and that a good sized job will be on hand. Secretary Meyer said he had sent his aid Lieut. Commander Palmer to the New York navy yard to see what could be done to send some ships here. The Herald feels almost certain from assurances from Secretary Meyer that a lay-off will be averted.

MRS. PEARSON AND
TRASK IN THE WEST

J. N. Pearson learns that his wife who ran away with Fred L. Trask, the navy yard clerk, did not go to Canada. They are touring the West. Mr. Pearson has a means of keeping track of their movements. Referring to certain stories, "It has been falsely stated about the city that we were separated for months and on different occasions. This is not at all true. The fact is that we never, with a single exception, had harsh words pass between us in our years of married life, now nearly a dozen. That time was when, on returning from a trip, I found that Trask had been at my house. I would not put up with this, and ordered my wife to leave. She went to the house of one of her relatives but within a few hours we were reconciled and she had agreed to give up Trask forever.

"I am convinced that she did her best to keep that promise so sincerely given. But he would not leave her alone, and our wrecked home is the result.

"I questioned them both at last, and found they were of one mind on the matter. I said to Trask then: 'Go. Take her with you. I will not stand in the way of her happiness. But she

FREIGHT WRECK
BLOCKS TWO TRACKS

A freight train over the western route of the Portland division, B. & M. piled up at 9 o'clock this morning near the Newmarket depot blocking both main line tracks of that route. The wrecking crew from this city were ordered to work there and left here about 10 o'clock. The train was bound for Portland and the trouble was caused by a car which jumped the track. Conductor Shorey ran the wreck train to place of accident.

RAILROAD NOTES

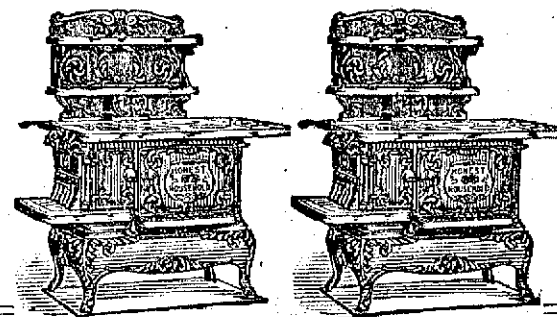

Over two hundred passengers left this city for the Rochester fair on Wednesday. Today 150 took the special passenger train from this city at 8.30 a. m.

The "Three Twins Company" were passengers on the early train from Dover today transferring here for Concord on the Southern division. Conductor Frank Moore of this city is in charge of the special trains from Portsmouth to Rochester to accommodate the fair patrons which ran on Wednesday and Thursday. Clarence Brock, passenger conductor on the Rockport branch is confined to his home in Rockport as the result of a fall from an apple tree. Much sympathy is expressed by his many friends among the railroad men at his misfortune who hope for a full and speedy recovery.

Under the winter train schedule which becomes effective on the Boston and Maine on Monday next, all freights on the eastern route with the exception of two on the main line and two on the Conway branch will run as extras the movement by numbers as former will be discontinued.

An extra passenger train, conductor Williams, passed through here this morning with Veteran Firemen of So. Berwick and Somersworth on

"Big Jeff" Tesreau, Giants' Pitcher, Now in Calcium Light

NEW YORK Sept. 25.—The extensive bulk of Jeff Tesreau, the Giants' husky young pitcher is gradually supplanting all the world's calcium light to the very painful exclusion of numerous other celebrities. Every time Jeff appears now there is a distinct tug in the odds against the Giants. Right now Tesreau is twirling great ball. Up until a short time ago the big boy had been in the habit of walking three or four batsmen to a game but he has gradually gained control and coach Wilbert Robinson believes that he will finally become as steady as any pitcher in the field. If the World's series should open at Boston McGraw might star the Ozark Lion, although the consensus opinion is that no matter where the big ball commences one C. Mathewson will be there trying to slip the punch across.

The Baptists of New Hampshire are to hold their annual meeting with the Middle Street Church, in Portsmouth, October 1 and 2, 1912.

The Baptists are one of the largest denominations of the world. They have a World Alliance which has held All World Congresses, one in London in 1895 and one in Philadelphia in June, 1910. These large gatherings have developed a unity of thought and purpose not hitherto known. Their well-known spirit of independence has delayed their symmetrical consolidation until recent years, although they have flourished in England and on the Continent for several centuries. Among the well known Baptists of other days were John Bunyan, John Howard, John Milton, while Charles Hadden Spurgeon, Alexander McLaren, Robert Stewart McArthur are representatives in our times.

The World Congress in London in 1905 elicited the facts of their strength and numbers. They numbered then in actual membership 6,195,817, with 3,226,231 Sunday School scholars, which would indicate that they possess a constituency of between fifteen and twenty millions.

The Congress in Philadelphia disclosed the fact that within the last few years a wide-spread revival in Russia, Hungary and Roumania has brought the principles for which they have always stood to the front. At this Congress over sixty races were represented when the roll call of Nations was called. The Rev. Dr. Elford, who is an expert in European languages, has been appointed a traveling Secretary and has organized thousands of persons into hundreds of churches. The Rev. R. S. McArthur of New York is now the President of the World Alliance, and last winter he was sent to St. Petersburg with two European representatives, to secure from the Czar of all the Russias the site upon which to build a great Baptist University. This was accomplished, and several hundred thousand dollars are already in hand to push the work to success.

The Baptists of the United States have ten Theological Seminaries; ninety-nine Colleges and Universities, with ninety-six Academies and Seminaries. Their educational plant represents $96,633,503 in money, with 54,233 pupils and 3,438 instructors. They have forty-nine charitable institutions. During the last year 213 new churches were organized, and 247 meeting houses built, and 296,772 persons were baptized and 153,359 added by letter, a total net gain of 170,254. Or reckoning this by the week, we have the following succinct statements: Per week 41 churches were organized; 41 meeting houses built; 5,781 persons were baptized, and each week 3,274.1 recruits were added beyond all the losses by deaths or removals.

The Baptists of the United States have been prominent in Missionary work. In 1814 they organized their first great Foreign Missionary Society in this country. In England this work was begun by them twenty-two years earlier. Wm. Carey and Adoniram Judson are the characters around whom these movements crystallized. The story of this foreign missionary work reads like an epic. Today they have an army of about 1500 missionaries, with thousands of native helpers and about 279,713 communicants in heathen lands.

Their Publication Society was organized in 1824. Their publications for Sunday Schools and other branches of activity total annually millions of pages. They have six Gospel cars and 74 colportage wagons that traverse every state in the Union.

In 1832 the Home Mission Society was organized, with North America as its field of effort. Its motto is "North America for Christ." It has a force of 1513; the membership of its Mission Churches is 60,997.

For the three chief Societies, the amounts raised last year were:

Publication, $ 998,201.30
Foreign, 1,089,244.05
Home, 1,023,750.67

$3,011,196.12

LAKES-TO-THE-GULF DEEPWATERS ASSOCIATION ORGANIZE

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 25.—When the 1912 convention of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deepwaters Association organized here today, Colonel E. S. Sonway of Chicago was in the chair, the association's president, William Kavanaugh, of St. Louis, being unable to reach Little Rock. His address was read. The attendance at the opening session was taken as an indication that advocates of a deepwater channel in the Mississippi River were prepared to continue their propaganda. The convention will come to end Thursday night. Colonel Roosevelt will be the principal speaker at today's session. Governor-elect Joseph F. Robinson will speak this afternoon in advocacy of Federal control of the state levee system and other advanced methods of protecting the fertile lands through which the Mississippi and other streams flow.

The opening of the Panama Canal will work hardships on the people of the Mississippi Valley unless the Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway project is carried through, according to President Kavanaugh. "This association has evolved the slogan that river regulation is rate regulation for transportation. Another truth, self-evident, then naturally follows, that river regulation is price regulation. Thus we reach the very depths of the problem, the cost of living."

"Our leading engineers have already told us that it is easily possible to secure a preliminary depth from the lakes to the Gulf of at least fourteen feet, and our consulting engineer, Lyman E. Cooley, says that a twenty-four-foot channel can be had from the Gulf of Mexico to the Gulf of Mexico, 3300 miles, for less than the cost of the Panama Canal. Such a channel would mean that the ships of commerce could sail down the Gulf of St. Lawrence through the Great Lakes, through Chicago and St. Louis, down the Mississippi River, through New Orleans to the Gulf of Mexico. The value of the Panama Canal is a mere bagatelle compared to this completed project."

"It is essentially fitting, now that the Panama Canal is being completed, that the eyes of the people of this country be focused upon the Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep water project. Indeed, do not believe that the Panama Canal will be of that benefit to the people of the United States that its cost would indicate, unless this deep waterway project is successfully and quickly completed. It has even been asserted that without the completion of this deep waterway system the Panama Canal might even be a detriment to the people living far inland along the Mississippi Valley. To them the cost of the necessities of life would be so much greater than to those living along the seacoast that the canal would prove an injustice to all inland dwellers. The people who dwell within the confines of this valley know the underlying truths of what I have asserted, and they want this project completed."

"Now is the psychological time to strike the most telling blow for this great cause of the people of the Mississippi Valley. And how may it be done? By transferring the machinery and organization of engineers and laborers from the completed Panama Canal to the Mississippi River. Before another annual convention of this association it is likely that the first ship shall have passed through the Panama Canal from one of the great oceans to the other. The completing of the canal will have been the greatest task ever finished by a nation. But we know that this powerful and rapidly developing nation will not be satisfied to stop with the canal as its greatest achievement. A few generations hence this nation will have completed tasks that make the Panama Canal look small in comparison."

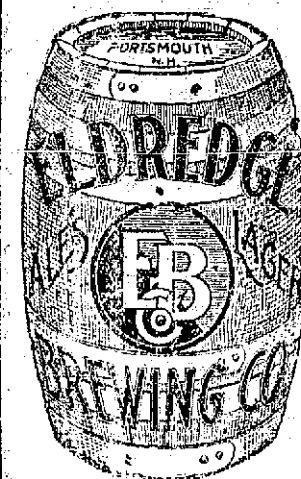

"This movement is not political. It is non-partisan in every sense. The interest of the people is deeper than politics; and the people have the power to work their will in Congress. In the continent of North America, between Mexico and the northern limit at which wheat, barley and potatoes will ripen, there is an area of 5,129,000 square miles, of which 2,765,000 lie within the greater Mississippi Valley, an area almost as great as the whole of Europe."

"A very important phase of this Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway has been stressed by the recent record-breaking floods in the Mississippi Valley. These floods have been more damaging than any gone before. Portions of fourteen parishes in Louisiana were under water at the same time. I am in favor of the Federal Government taking over these levees and perfecting them along the most advanced scientific principles. In many places I am convinced that it would be worth while for the Government engineers to consider putting in concrete cores. If we are to have a good channel in the river it is necessary that we have good levees along the river banks. There are, in the valley from Chicago to the Gulf—23,000 square miles of land—more than 20,000,000 acres subject to overflow. All but two or three thousand square miles of this land is south of Cairo, in what is known as the delta region, and ninety million dollars of the estimate which has been made by the Board of Engineers are for the revetments to hold the banks in order to conserve these lands and protect the levee system. When we take that out, less money is required to develop the Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway than is required to develop the Ohio River for a depth of nine feet."

CONGRESSMAN SULLOWAY WANTS MEN KEPT AT WORK

Has Written to President Taft About Navy Yard Lay Off.

Congressman Sulloway in discussing the situation at the yard has the following to say:

"I have written President Taft a letter urging the importance of keeping the men steadily employed at the navy yard, and I am glad to inform the people of Portsmouth that the President has heartily endorsed my views and transmitted my letter to the secretary of the navy," says Congressman Sulloway.

"I told the president in my letter that these spasmodic and altogether too frequent layoffs of the men was demoralizing to the force of splendid workmen at the local yard, and that the only way the government could keep and hold good men was to see that they are given constant employment. As time goes by I am more and more convinced that that much of the work now done by outside contract must be done at the navy yards.

"I know that the president is greatly interested in the Portsmouth navy yard, and I feel confident that additional work will be sent there so that the present force at least may be kept constantly employed the year round.

"In this matter I have had the hearty co-operation of the other members of the New Hampshire delegation, and also the enthusiastic support of Senator Pender, who is always alive to the interests of Portsmouth."

IN BRIEF.

Altoona, Pa., Sept. 25—President Taft arrived here early today from New York to participate in the semi-centennial of the Loyal War Governors' conference.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 25—Brown university opened today for its 149th academic year. While no estimate of the number of students who will be enrolled this year could be given, Registrar Frederick T. Guild said that the registration would be about normal. Returning upper classmen found several changes among the faculty and teaching staff, the most noticeable one being the absence of former Dean Alexander Meikelljohn, now president of Amherst.

Boston, Sept. 25—The unification of legislation relating to bank checks was a topic considered by the International Congress of Chambers of Commerce at the second day's session today. The subject was introduced in a report submitted by Dr. Hans Trumpler of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, and Dr. Max Apt of Berlin, who have had the matter under consideration since the last congress at London, two years ago.

New York, Sept. 25—The opening of the school of journalism at Columbia university today found an enrollment which, according to Dr. Talcott Williams, its director, exceeded all expectation. No figures as to the number of students were given out, as it was declared that the registration would not be completed until the last of the week.

San Jose, Cal., Sept. 25—Irregularities of about $100,000 in the accounts of State Senator Marshall Black, secretary of the Palo Alto Mutual Building and Loan association, exist, according to a statement he is alleged to have made at a meeting of the board of directors.

Auburn, Me., Sept. 25—Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, national and state president of the Women's Christian Temperance union, concluded a series of recommendations at the opening today of the 38th annual convention of the Maine branch of that organization, with an appeal to all unions and individual 'white ribboners' to do everything possible to uphold and sustain the prohibitory law.

Bath, Me., Sept. 25—Club women from every section of Maine were present today, when the 20th annual meeting of the Maine Federation of Women's clubs was called to order by the president, Mrs. Stanley Plummer of Dexter, for a two days' session. Addresses by Mrs. Plummer and Dr. A. A. Downs, executive secretary of the Maine Anti-tuberculosis association and reports of officers, including the district presidents, were an interesting part of the forenoon program.

Phillips, Me., Sept. 25—One hundred years ago last February Phillips was incorporated as a town and named in honor of M. Phillips, a former proprietor of the land which comprised the new town. The centennial anniversary of that event is being celebrated today and tomorrow by the townspeople and former residents. A feature of the celebration was the 61st cattle show and fair of the North Franklin Agricultural society, which was made a part of the anniversary program. Rev. Dr. Noble of Chicago, a former resident of Phillips, was expected to be present and deliver an address.

MADERO OFFERS AMNESTY TO REBELS

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25—A new movement to obtain peace in northern Mexico was made today when President Madero and his cabinet instructed the Minister of War to offer amnesty to the followers of Pascual Orozco, the rebel leader.

MADERO ASKS $10,000,000.

Sum Needed, He Says, to End Insurrection—President Wants Either a Loan or an Appropriation—General Aguilar Breaks Out in Rebellion—Heads Large Force, It is Said, in Central Mexico.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 25—President Madero has sent to Congress a message requesting an appropriation of twenty million pesos ($10,000,000) for the authorization of making a loan for that amount to be used in conducting the campaign against the rebels. It is believed Congress will either make the appropriation or authorize the loan. In his message President Madero said there was on hand on June 3, including twenty million pesos borrowed, 61,000,000 pesos. The 20,000,000 borrowed he said already had been spent, and likewise a considerable part of the remaining 41,000,000, making it necessary that either an appropriation or a loan should be provided for.

General Higinio Aguilar, arrested several months ago accused of being implicated in the Reyes plot to cause a mutiny among the troops stationed in the capital, according to information published today in El Heraldo, is in command of a large force of rebels in the mountains between the States of Puebla and Oaxaca. Aguilar was exonerated of the Reyes charge but was not replaced on the list of active officers of the army. He recently disappeared from the capital. Oaxaca, the capital of the State of Oaxaca, has been relieved by the retirement of the Indian rebels who had besieged it. Reports from the State of Chihuahua are that small rebel bands are reappearing there. One band is reported to have engaged a Federal force yesterday for two hours near Saucillo, a short distance south of this city of Chihuahua.

Notes of Interest to Our Readers.

To prove that "BLOODINE" will cure Catarrh every reader of this paper can have a positive guarantee. If there is any doubt in your mind as to the power of "BLOODINE" to cure all Catarrhal Troubles the remarkable offer made by the Tiltor Drug Company should expel that doubt. They give you a personal guarantee with every 50 cent bottle of "BLOODINE" they sell to refund the money unless it gives satisfaction. They take all the risks of cure, and no reader of this paper can afford to suffer longer with Catarrh when an offer like this is made.

LIVE ANIMAL COLD STORAGE

Resuscitated After Being Frozen Solid, Claim of Russian Biologist.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 25—The Russkoye Slovo, of Moscow, has published an article by Professor Kalin, describing experiments made by Prof. Bachmeteff, formerly of Sofia, and now of Moscow University. Professor Bachmeteff, his colleague, says, has proved that animals may be frozen alive and then resuscitated none the worse. Professor Bachmeteff calls this process "anabiosis." The first experiments were made with cold-blooded animals and insects. Butterflies were enclosed in a vessel containing air at a temperature of minus 23 degrees Cent. The body fluids immediately froze hard, all vital actions ceased, and in ordinary phraseology, the butterflies were "frozen to death." A special apparatus showed the very low temperature of their bodies; and when taken out suddenly they "turned into stone."

Despite this Professor Bachmeteff discovered that by slow and careful warming they could be restored to life at any time before the body temperature has fallen below minus 10 degrees Cent. Tests showed that when the resuscitation was begun at a body temperature of minus 1-2 degrees Cent., recovery was quickest and most complete.

The next stage was the repetition of this experiment on warm-blooded animals and on mammals. Two hundred tests were made. Nearly all succeeded. Bats were refrigerated and kept "dead" for a long time and later completely restored. Dr. Kalin says that these experiments open out remarkable prospects for the future. It is implied that it may even be possible to send refrigerated animals across the ocean and resuscitate them on arrival at their destination.

Stolen Masterpiece, It is Declared, Is in Private Gallery in Russian Capital.

WANT HUNT FOR KEENAN KEPT UP

Women Protest Against Abandonment of Search on Mt. Washington.

BRETTON WOODS, Sept. 25—Half a dozen expert guides and woodmen failed yesterday to uncover any traces of John M. Keenan of Charlestown, Mass., who now has been missing six days. The bottom of Miller's pond on the slopes of Mount Washington was dragged yesterday without result, in the belief on the part of several of the searchers that the young man had been drowned there. The Keenan's City runs through the premises herein offered for sale and the conveyance of the premises will be made subject to the right of the City to maintain the sewer on said premises.

Bids for the purchase of said premises are hereby requested, said bids to be addressed to the City Auditor and presented to him not later than 8 o'clock P. M., Sept. 26, 1912, when the bids will be opened.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1912.

The Baltimore Sun says the fifteenth International congress on Hygiene and Demography which assembled in Washington yesterday, is in a sense the most important gathering of the year.

The Boston Transcript says when the enemies of the Madero government are reduced to the tricks implied in the letter of Orozco's little girl, and the attempt to connect President Taft's brother with the fall of Diaz, we may safely conclude that the current insurrection is in a tight place.

Whether or no he is elected to the presidency of the state college hon. Henry C. Morrison must be deeply gratified at the support for that position which he has received and is receiving from the press of the state.—Concord Monitor.

The trustees of New Hampshire college if they are looking for a capable man for the position, could not make a wiser selection than Mr. Morrison. His appointment would satisfy the general public far better than the selection of a man from out of the state for the position.

The Chicago Record-Herald says while the house of commons is sitting as a committee of ways and means the chancellor of the exchequer makes a statement which contains a review of the finances, present estimates of receipts and expenditures, outlines a readjustment of taxes for the needs of the year, and perhaps introduces some new tax or some new scheme of taxation. This is the budget upon which the government which is part of the house and the house work together. In effect there is a board of directors acting as a business board might in the financial affairs of the nation. A budget in this country should mean something approaching that system. If we can not have it, very desirable elasticity in the matter of taxation we can at least avoid the division that exists between the two sides of the account—an excess of enthusiasm for appropriations regardless of receipts, a log rolling style of appropriation that is indifferent to ways and means as a promoter's prospectus, and come nearer a community of interest and of action. President Taft and secretary McVeagh are working that way. Obviously they should have the cooperation of Congress.

The Manchester Union says: And now the Third Termers in Maine—who by the way have arranged to have both Roosevelt and Johnson on the stump in that state deny the right of the republicans to bring in Taft speakers threatening if Taft speakers come there to nominate Enoch Foster of Portland, for fourteen years an associate justice of the supreme court of Maine to oppose Mr. Burleigh, the republican candidate for United States senator. The childishness of this position is characteristic. Incidentally, if the Third Termers decide to run Enoch Foster for the United States senate they should be prepared to give a satisfactory explanation as to why he is no longer on the judicial bench. Some one is sure to ask that question and insist on an answer.

The Newark Star remarks that lying by innuendo and by false inference is not as respectable and certainly not as courageous as lying outright. The man in deliberate life who resorts to deliberate falsification whether directly or by innuendo, is sure to be exposed no matter how neatly he veils his lies or makes them plausible with honeyed words. Men who make false statements unintentionally, through misinformation and have the conscience to correct them can be held blameless and are easily forgiven, but the man who by word or implication utters a lie and trades upon it, and when challenged is either silent or repeats the falsehood is a man of no moral principle no matter what his pretensions may be. In the hurry burley of a political campaign covering the continent a speaker may interlard his speeches with adroit falsehoods and not be held to an immediate account. American audiences are courteous, and usually they are so widely scattered that the truth can never catch up with a falsifier. While the campaign lies may be regarded as belonging to the license of partisan politics the habit in a speaker is not altogether forgotten. It leaves its taint upon him.

The Vermont election emphasizes what we have repeatedly pointed out that a vote not given to Taft is a vote for Wilson; it is a vote for Wilson's declaration at William's Grove, Pa., on Thursday, August 29, that farmers do not need protection, and as follows, of course, that Wilson and the democracy will not give them what they do not need. It is a vote to bring back the low tariff, the bankruptcy for employers and misery for employees of 1894-97 under a democratic administration. It is a vote for killing the American navy and letting England and Germany kick us when they feel like it. It is a vote to turn out many thousands of faithful republican employees of the government, a host of whom have grown gray in the service, and who with democrats running the Federal government would be turned out under a seven year tenure bill, such as the democrats succeeded in forcing through the present Congress and President Taft vetoed.

Men of Maine, men of other loyal states, many of these employees were put into official service because father or brother husband or son fought and died for the Union. Are you willing to see them turned out to starve by the Wilson Southern democracy? If you are then vote for Wilson. If you are not then vote for Taft.

It's Taft or Wilson. The Vermont election leaves no doubt of that.

The exports of manufactured goods from our country have passed the billion dollar mark, in spite of the claim that only under free trade could our manufacturers develop an export business.

The farmers' free list bill, through which the Democratic party hoped to capture the farmer vote, was so hastily drawn that no one can tell whether or not it applies to about 150 articles largely used in agriculture.

Gov. Wilson speaks kindly of his opponents, realizing that there is no need of contributing to the personal criticisms which they are so entirely competent to conduct.

Gov. Harman speaks approvingly of Gov. Wilson thereby showing an ability to take a defeat in convention more philosophically than some of the other distinguished democrats.

There is always some risk in a hunting trip. But it is safe to say that when King George goes grouse shooting enough formalities are observed to prevent the slightest chance of filling his majesty's calves with a load of bird shot.

When Col. Roosevelt advises the recall even of a President he seems to ignore the popular impression that this has been the principal feature of his program from the start.

BIG SUMMER BUSINESS

The Boston & Maine road practically earned its six months' dividend requirements in July and August, gross earnings increasing in each month about $400,000 over the same periods a year ago. Traffic receipts in these two months were the heaviest in the history of the road. Operating expenses were lower by $25,000 than a year ago.

AMOUNT SHOULD BE DETERMINED BY THE GIVER

From New York Times of Sept. 4, 1912. To the Editor of the New York Times: The all-important factors in a campaign contribution are the motive back of the gift and the understanding, if any, on which it is accepted. I see no reason why individual contributions should be limited to $10,000, nor any reason why the amount should not be determined by the donor.

I do not believe in a party treasurer receiving campaign funds surreptitiously—not that he does. Nor do I believe that a candidate should attempt to hide behind the excuse that he did not know what his treasurer was doing, particularly if the candidate is an active politician, who is deprived from public participation in the fight, and in constant telephonic communication with the party headquarters I do not believe that George W. Perkins who contributed $75,000 to the 1904 fund, should have been permitted to exert sufficient influence at the White House to bring the Department of Justice's prosecution of the harvesters trust to a sudden standstill, or that the steel trust, having contributed heavily should have been able to secure from the White House a promise of immunity from prosecution if it absorbed its chief competitor; nor that $100,000 should have been accepted from the Standard Oil Company, and the head of the trust left with the conviction that, had his trust contributed the additional $150,000 asked, it would have escaped prosecution during the last administration.

I have heard the excuse that the candidate did not let his right hand know what his left hand was doing, but Governor Hughes had publicly exposed the $50,000 contribution of the New York Life Insurance Company funds and Mr. Roosevelt has himself admitted that he knew of $10,000 contributed by the steel trust and says he had Mr. Knox's assurance that if further contributions from the Standard Oil trust were rejected the steel trust would make him good, so I think I may be pardoned if I am a little skeptical regarding the "ignorance" of the other contributions, or even regarding any squeamishness on the part of the beneficiary.

But when it comes to placing an arbitrary limitation on the amount which a man with proper motives may contribute to the campaign of a candidate whose success he believes essential to the welfare of the nation I can perceive no good reason therefor, and no just method of enforcement. Fortunately, we now have a law which prohibits campaign contributions from corporations absolutely.

The support of The Chicago Tribune for instance, to the candidacy of the third term candidate has been worth not ten, but hundreds of thousands of dollars, it has been going on for many months. The same is true of The New York World's support of the Democratic candidate, and of the support of the other Democratic papers. Does any one imagine that George W. Perkins put his money into The Evening Mail as an investment? Or was it to acquire the support of that paper for his candidate for President? And yet, no accounting of such contributions will have to be made at Albany or at Washington. Since Dan Hanna has acquired control of The Cleveland Leader and The Cleveland News, they have been fighting the President at every issue, a valuable contribution to his opponents. But no one imagines that Mr. Hanna was actuated solely by a desire to become an editor. And yet the contribution of a service of such value goes unreported and unrecorded.

Mr. Bryan, whose services on the lecture platform command $500 a night, will devote many nights and much oratory to Governor Wilson's campaign, far more, presumably than could be purchased for $10,000. To a less extent this is true of many men who enjoy something of a vogue on the Chautauqua circuit.

What, then, if the President's brother, Charles F. Taft, shall contribute more than $10,000 to this campaign? Mr. Taft was almost as much responsible for the President entering politics as was Mr. Roosevelt. Certainly his motives were not less pure. Then why should he not be at liberty to contribute in accordance with his means to his brother's campaign? No one can claim that President Taft has ever been influenced improperly by any contribution to his former campaign, nor will he be by any contribution to this. Those who are supporting Mr. Taft, this year especially, are doing so with the conviction that his defeat would mean disaster to the country. Who can properly or justly put a limitation on their patriotism in terms of dollars and cents?

Charles D. Hilles,
Chairman Republican National Committee.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP

EXAMINATIONS.

The next qualifying examination for candidates for the Rhodes scholarship from New Hampshire will be Tuesday, October 15th, and Wednesday, October 16th in Concord and Hanover, N. H. The subjects for these examinations are: arithmetic, (the whole) either the elements of algebra or the elements of geometry Greek Grammar, Latin Grammar, translation from English into Latin prose, and translation from Greek and Latin into English. The examination is of such a nature that students who have been well prepared for college in Latin, Greek, and mathematics is likely to find it easier at the opening of his college course, or in the earlier part of it than in the later part, unless he continues to pursue those three subjects. The requirements for the translation from Greek and Latin is met by passing an examination upon the first three books of Xenophon's Anabasis and Caesar's Gallic War.

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS--25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save Your Hair! Beautify it! Invigorate Your Scalp! Danderine Grows Hair and Can We Prove It.

Try as you will after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks use when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over your scalp.

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing, your hair will be light, fluffy, and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and prove to yourself tonight, now that your hair is as pretty and soft as any, that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment, that's all.

David Belasco to Dramatists.

David Belasco's article in the October Century on "The Playwright and the Box Office" will contain expert advice to seasoned dramatists as well as to those that would reach that estate. It is Mr. Belasco's position that even the veterans forget the elementary lesson in play-building and that all that write for the stage should study the "front of the house" even more carefully than the stage itself.

The October Woman's Home Companion.

The October Woman's Home Companion contains the first installment of a new serial story by Justus Miles Forman, which has to do with the subject, "Votes for Women," and is sure to create considerable discussion. The story is entitled "Through the Open Door," and starts out briskly with the principal character, a young woman of nineteen, discovering herself in a state of revolt against her teacher, who is stand-pat and conservative to the last degree.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, formerly chief of the Bureau of Chemistry in Washington, contributes to the same number of the Companion a remarkable and interesting and useful article entitled "Intelligent Eating," full of specific suggestions to everybody. Another notable contribution is entitled "What I Got Out of College," the author being a Wellesley College. "What Children Should Eat," by Dr. Roger H. Bennett, a New York specialist on children's diseases, is also a valuable article.

The regular Cooking Home Decoration, Household and Fashion Departments are filled with good reading and with ideas that will help women to save time and money in their housekeeping and dress arrangements.

The Most Expensive Minstrel Organization in the World.

In the October American Magazine appears an interesting account of a great theatrical production twice a year given by convicts in the state Penitentiary of California, located at San Quentin where the MacNamara brothers, Boss Ruf, and other famous criminals are imprisoned. Following is one of the jokes made by the first man in the minstrel show:

"This is the most exquisite minstrel organization in the world," remarked the kidnapper in black face. "It cost more money to assemble it than any company that ever took the road."

"How do you figure that?" asked the middle man.

"Average cost of each member: $100 to arrest him, $1,000 to convict, $2,000 to fetch him and $5,000 to keep him here—which is all exclusive of the salary each member ought to have."

BIG CROPS ALL OVER THE WORLD

Bad news never comes singly, but neither does good. An official report received in this country from the International Institute of Agriculture gives figures showing that "bumper" crops exist not only in the United States this year but all over the world. For instance, the total estimated wheat crop of the principal wheat producing countries of the world is 3,200,000,000 bushels, or 6.7 per cent more than last year's actual production; the rye total is 1,535,000,000 bushels, or 17.7 per cent more; oats is 3,504,000,000 bushels, or 17.8 per cent more; corn is 3,616,000,000 bushels, or 17 per cent more, and barley is 1,774,000,000 bushels, or 5.7 per cent more. All this means prosperity not only for the countries which are raising bumper crops for themselves, but for the civilized world as a whole. And the United States will enjoy the benefits from the prosperity of the rest of the world, even as it has to divide some of its own.

BIG EVENTS PLANNED FOR ROCKINGHAM PARK

The star talent for the automobile races scheduled for Rockingham Park, Salem, N. H., on Columbus Day Oct. 12, will be Spencer Wishart, the young New York millionaire racer, in his Mercedes, with Harry Grant in the Stutz which was used at Milwaukee in the Vanderbilt cup race in a 20 mile match race.

For the five mile amateur races scheduled for this day are entered a Lozier, Thomas, Mercer, Oldsmobile, and Studebaker 20. Nothing is being left undone to put the Rockingham track in perfect condition for these holiday events and some spectacular racing seems assured. At least two motor cycle events have been added and judging from the entries to date these will bring out some of the local talent.

So much interest has been manifested in the automobile races by the college men that the management has decided to add to the list already planned an amateur event open only to students Harvard Yale Brown and Dartmouth. This will be the big intercollegiate motor event of the year and will be a regular fall feature at Rockingham. Entries may be made at the Boston offices of Rockingham Park.

NEW RULING ON BANK EXAMINATIONS

A ruling of great interest to country banks has been laid down by Lawrence O. Murray, comptroller of the currency. On and after October 1, he says, he desires that at the examination of all country banks the board of directors be convened and the examination of assets be made in their presence. He has notified banks of this by letter, and in cases where there are out of town directors, he has been assured that steps will be taken to have at least a quorum present.

The comptroller cautions the examiners "to inquire into, very carefully, any undue concentration of the loans of a bank in companies controlled by the bank's officers or directors. I speak now," he continued, "of any bank where such concentration would ruin the bank if the loans are bad. Whenever you come across a case where the directors or officers are unduly concentrating the funds of a bank in corporations controlled by themselves, and where you have no information on which to base an opinion as to whether the loans are good or bad, it seems to me you are clearly entitled to one of three things: First, that the books of the corporation be voluntarily opened to you, or second, that the directors give you a full statement in detail of the business of the concerns, or, third, that a copy be given you of a report on the company or corporation made by an independent auditor."

NAVAL PRISONER MAKES HIS ESCAPE FROM GUARD

Floyd E. Rule, Here But a Short Time, Gets Out of Yard in Workman's Overalls.

Floyd E. Rule, alias Charles E. Day, the afternoon he secured a pair of overalls on the U. S. S. prison, and he changed these for his prison uniform. He then left the yard by the main gate. He was stopped by the sentry, who questioned who he was, but on his replying that he was employed by the Contractors he was allowed to go. Later the guard in charge of this squad of prisoners, discovered his absence and during the night he was found.

ed on the fire alarm, and all of the other prisoners hustled back to the prison ship and naval prison and then a large squad of marines were sent out after the escaped prisoner.

They made a search of the yard, and Kittery and several of the guard were sent to this city and they kept a close watch at the depot, but no trace of the missing man was found.

This is the first escape of a prisoner for a long time, but a very few have made any attempt since the guard at the naval prison fired on three and killed one.

The police of this city were notified and a description sent over. It describes Rule as 23 years old, 5 feet, 6 inches tall, weight 140 pounds, blue eyes, dark brown hair and of florid complexion, with a scar on his chin and forehead.

PORTSMOUTH PROOF.

Should Convince Every Reader

The frank statement of a neighbor telling the merits of a remedy, bids you pause and believe. By some stranger far away Commands no belief at all. Here's a Portsmouth case. A Portsmouth citizen testifies. Read and be convinced. Charles E. Oliver, barber, Collins Court, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "Standing for hours brought a constant stinging on my kidneys and I finally began to have kidney complaint. My back was so lame at times that I could hardly attend to my work, and I was also troubled with headaches and spells of dizziness. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box and began using them, following the directions closely. The pains in my back and other symptoms of kidney complaint soon left and I felt much better in every way. The cure has since proven to be a permanent one and I therefore advise anyone suffering from disordered kidneys to try Doan's Kidney Pills."

Children just love to take them.

BRINGS UP OLD SENSATION

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—Miss Dorothy Lester, the beautiful young woman who was the central figure in the "Harlequin" Navy Yard sensation three years ago, which led to the arrest of Dr. Ansel H. Roberts, U. S. N., and Paymaster George A. Auld, U. S. N., will be married in Evanston, Ill., Wednesday to Harold Dahl, whom she has known many years.

The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Frederick Lester, 1612 Lake avenue, and the couple will go immediately to Los Angeles, where the groom is in the hardware business.

It was a fight over Miss Lester that caused the court-martial of the two naval officers at Charlestown. All the principals in the case were present at a naval dance on Dec. 11, 1909, at the residence of Dr. Howard P. Ames, director of the Naval Hospital.

During the dance Paymaster Auld approached Dr. E. S. Cowles, a Black Bay physician, now of Portsmouth, brother of Rear Admiral W. S. Cowles, and said: "Leave this place at once, and do not come here again." It was charged that he was guilty of falsehood in stating that his action in ordering Cowles away was known and approved by Miss Margaret E. Ames, daughter of the host. In addition, it was charged that he struck Dr. Cowles, knocking him down.

Dr. Robnett was charged with assisting in the assault and also with wearing at Dr. Cowles over the telephone later.

The court-martial of the two men was brought about by Dr. Cowles's wife, who admitted on the witness stand that she had gone to Washington personally to push the charges. She testified that her reason in going was because she believed the case was being hushed up and that she had been informed that the matter had been dropped with a reprimand. She testified that she talked with the secretary of the navy and also with Senator Lodge concerning the case.

During the court-martial it developed that the real cause of the trouble was that Dr. Cowles had taken a photograph of Miss Lester from her home and did not return it until Dr. Robnett had called him up on the telephone several days later.

The trial of the two men created a sensation in naval circles and the testimony of witnesses was followed with great interest. During the trial Miss Lester, who was then 18 years old, testified that she was engaged to marry Dr. Robnett.

Both men were found guilty of conduct unbecoming gentlemen and the court-martial board recommended that both men be lowered several points in their ranking.

When Miss Lester went to Evanston in 1910 she was still engaged to marry Dr. Robnett. The marriage was planned for June of that year, but the couple became estranged and the engagement was broken. Later she met Mr. Dahl, whom she had known for a long time.

FIND FAMED WARRIOR'S BODY

Workers Discover Tomb of Andrea Morosini in Venetian Church—Mummy Also Found.

Venice.—It always pays to scrape the walls of the churches and palaces of Italy, for almost invariably under the uninteresting outer wash are found frescoes of more or less value. This is just what happened here in the church of Sts. John and Paul, where some frescoed figures of the evangelists have come to light near the high altar.

What is, perhaps, more interesting to the ordinary traveler is the discovery in the same church at the other side of the high altar of a Gothic sarcophagus of the fourteenth century in which a mummified body was lying on the back with the head turned to the right. One of the feet was detached from the body. From the description it was learned that these were the remains of Andrea Morosini, a famous warrior and a member of the family which gave four doges to Venice. The remains have been left intact and the tomb will be exhibited to the public as soon as the restoration of the church is completed.

Marshall McMurrin Remembered Servant Girl Who Gave Him a "Snack" With $40,000.

Petersburg, Ind.—Several years ago a tramp appeared at the kitchen in which Maggie Drain was working and asked for something to eat. The family in which she was employed as a servant protested, but she gave the man his breakfast and an hour later he returned with a paper which he handed to her, charging her to keep it.

It proved to be a document giving to the girl the property of Marshall McMurrin at his death.

McMurrin owned a farm in an adjoining county, and when he died a year ago the document was presented and claim to his property made. The relatives of McMurrin sought to break the will, but it was recently sustained by the court and Miss Drain will get about $40,000.

CROWD SEEKS STONE

New Yorkers Join Search For $500 Diamond.

Broadway Denizens Dig in Excavation for Valuable Jewel for Which Reward of $100 is Offered by Woman—Lost During Accident.

New York.—Workmen are diamond hunting in an excavation at Broadway and Thirty-ninth street. Every handful of earth they pass carefully through their fingers. Scores did the same thing and there was an amusing contest between the police and the crowd. For there is a $500 diamond somewhere in that hole and there is a $100 reward for the finding of it.

The big gem belongs to Mrs. Edward B. Walker, who owns the Knickerbocker line of sight-seeing automobiles. About 9 o'clock at night Mrs. Walker's private car nearly dropped into the hole. She saved her life, but one of her biggest diamonds fell into the dirt.

As her chauffeur, Edward Regan, dodged a pedestrian crossing Broadway, the automobile skidded on the pavement, just wet by the shower, and before he could regain control the front end of the car had plunged over the mouth of the pit. But for some pipes and scaffolding, the car would have dropped ten feet to the bottom of the hole. As it was the machine hung suspended in most remarkable fashion over the edge of the excavation.

Neither Mrs. Walker nor Regan was hurt, nor was the car much damaged. But in the shock of the impact Mrs. Walker had grabbed one of the stays of the cover of the machine, and the diamond had been jerked from its setting.

Shortly after they had started Mrs. Walker happened to notice her ring. With a cry, she exclaimed: "Oh, I do declare, I've lost my solitaire!"

By way of proof she held up her hand and showed the ring, which had a yawning excavation big enough to take a fair-sized filbert. Then displaying another ring with a large stone, she cried:

"Here, the lost diamond is larger than this one. It cost me $500 and I'll give $100 cash right here to him who'll find it for me."

It was some scramble that followed. All Broadway wanted to be in on that diamond ring.

"See it!" yelled a man, diving for a glittering object under the car.

"Get back out of this everybody; all of you get back," ordered the police.

"Hi, hold your foot there for a moment," cried one of the policemen as he jumped at a piece of glass.

But despite all, Mrs. Walker had to go home and leave that $500 diamond in the dirt on Broadway.

MILK SITUATION IN DOUBT.

Producers and Boston Contractors Have Come to No Agreement.

No agreement has been reached between the milk producers and Boston contractors relative to prices. The producers made a demand some time ago. This was refused by the Hood Company, which made a compromise offer, and this in turn was practically refused by the producers. Other milk contractors have since announced that they will not pay any more than what the Hood offered. The statement about the situation is issued by President L. H. Ruggles of the farmers' union.

"The directors of the Milk Producers' Association in the Whiting territory met the Whiting companies Wednesday. The Whiting contractors refused to give any more than the Hood companies have offered. They made the statement that they always had paid as much as their competitors and expected to continue to do so. They offered 25 cents for an eight-quart can for the month of October, in the middle zone. The directors have taken the matter under consideration and another conference will be held the last of the week. So far as can be learned, very few producers in the Hood territory have signed the register."

WILSON BEATS SMITH IN NEW JERSEY

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 25.—That Gov. Wilson won a sweeping victory in the New Jersey primaries yesterday was evident from the returns which sifted into Democratic headquarters here in the early hours of the day. In his fight to prevent the nomination for United States Senator of Ex-Senator James Smith, Jr., Gov. Wilson carried the State by a plurality of about 20,000, winning in every county except Essex, the stronghold of the Smith forces.

Returns from 511 of the 1792 Districts in the State gave Representative William Hughes, the Wilson candidate, 17,020 votes to 11,751 for Smith. Even Essex County, which includes the city of Newark, did not pile up for Mr. Smith the overwhelming vote which he had expected to receive from his neighbors. With a few districts missing, the vote in Essex showed Smith only about 4000 ahead of his opponent. On the other side was Hudson County, with an indicated Hughes plurality of 8000, and 20 other counties with Hughes' pluralities of from 200 to 1600 each.

Judge Hughes issued the following statement from his home in Paterson: "The vote is an absolute expression of the people of New Jersey in favor of the policies of Gov. Wilson. On this basis I submitted my candidacy to the people of New Jersey and they supported me admirably. The victory of Mr. Wilson seems now assured at the November election."

Wilson Candidates Successful.

It is believed that practically all the Wilson candidates for nomination throughout the State, outside of Essex County, were successful. All told, each party selected 12 candidates for Congress, 66 candidates for the State Legislature and many local officers. The vote was light all over the State, although leaders declared that this was due largely to inclement weather.

On the Republican side, the primaries were uneventful. Senator Frank O. Briggs receiving an uncontested endorsement.

The Progressives did not figure in the voting, except in Hudson County, where they defeated the regular organization and nominated their candidates for Congress and for the State Legislature. In other sections of the State they will nominate their candidates by petition.

Hughes' Plurality Above 20,000.

The total vote cast was estimated today at about 10,000. Complete returns were slow in being tabulated, but Hughes' plurality was estimated as running anywhere between 20,000 and 30,000.

In the 4th Congressional District Ex-Assemblyman Walsh won the Democratic nomination over a field of nine. In the 2d Congressional District there were three candidates for the Republican nomination—Representative John J. Gardner, seeking re-nomination; State Senator G. W. Lewis and State Senator Isaac Nichols. The fight appeared to be close between Gardner and Lewis.

Nominees for Congress.

John T. Wright of Camden was nominated by the Democrats for Congress from the 1st District. Representative William J. Browning was renominated by the Republicans.

In the 9th Congressional District the Democrats renominated Representative Walter McCoy and the Republicans nominated Ex-Representative Richard Wynne Parker. In the 10th District Representative Edward W. Townsend was renominated by the Democrats and W. L. Adams was chosen by the Republicans.

THIS PAPER PROVIDES BOTH

FOR THE BENEFIT OF OUR READERS

We have made arrangements whereby they can secure for a limited time only, this beautifully finished, Diagonal Stroke

TWIN BLADE SAFETY RAZOR

Regularly sold for $1, for one coupon cut from this paper and only 48c.

This is the only safety razor we have seen that makes a professional barber's stroke possible.

It is constructed on an entirely new principle and does away with the sensation of pulling, scraping and tearing, the common fault of the ordinary "hoe-type."

The peculiar curve of the handle so fits the hand that you get an unusually firm grip, absolutely preventing vibration and permitting a natural, sweeping, DIAGONAL STROKE.

This razor is better finished than razors costing many times as much, and will give you more real satisfaction than any razor you can buy, no matter what the price.

DANGER IN POOLS

Disease Germs Lurking in Most Swimming Tanks.

Tests Made by Scientists Show That Abundance of Microbes Even in Natatoriums of Wealthy Clubs Make Them Cesspools.

New York.—The average man who stands at the edge of a swimming pool ready to take the plunge which for him means refreshment and delightful relief does not realize that he is about to expose himself to the attack of millions upon millions of disease germs lurking in the tempting water before him. It matters little where this swimming pool happens to be, whether in a fashionable clubhouse or in the basement of an East Side tenement house; almost everywhere, owing to inefficient supervision and ignorance of the dangers involved, these pools are declared by certain investigators to be a menace to health.

So grave, in fact, do these investigators consider the danger of disease from this source that it has been thought necessary to call an international conference of bath officials to convene at The Hague this summer, and in New York City a meeting of public bath officials was held recently, and the American Association for Promoting Hygiene and Public Baths was formed. The forming of this association is a preliminary step to the international conference.

"Swimming pools," says H. F. J. Porter, discussing the matter in a recent issue of the Survey, "are little more than cesspools." The public generally regards them as refreshing, invigorating and beneficial, and few have ever dreamed that they may be breeders of disease. There are hundreds of such pools all over the city. Recently in the interest of the department of bacteriology of the University of Chicago K. N. Atkins made a careful study of five pools whose water supply was supposed to be clean. Investigation proved that they caused ailments of eye, ear and throat and intestinal disease.

Investigations in Hamburg and in Purdue, Brown, Chicago and Yale universities showed that the impurities are bacterial and chemical foreign matter, and all detected the presence of dangerous disease microbes. This condition existed in places where the details of hygiene and sanitation are otherwise scrupulously looked after.

Examination of the Hamburg pools showed that water fresh from the tap contained 57 microbes a cubic centimeter. After 74 persons had bathed in the water there were 1,800 microbes in the same quantity of water. When 404 persons had entered the pool the number had increased to 54,400, and after 829 bathers had been in contact with the water there were 154,000 microbes present to the cubic centimeter.

The last figures are interesting in that they show no proportionate increase in the number of microbes, and in that way illustrate the septic tank theory; that is, after a certain point of development the septic condition of water either kills the microbes or they devour each other when they have become too numerous, thus maintaining a maximum of impurity.

GIRLS SAFE FROM MASHERS

Daughter of Manila Banker Makes Trip From Philippines Alone Without Unpleasant Experience.

St. Louis.—Miss Eunice James, 24 years old, pretty and the daughter of a leading Manila, P. I., banker, has arrived here from San Francisco on a journey from her home to New York to prove her theory that a young woman may travel alone and not be annoyed by the unpleasant attentions of male strangers. Miss James said that in the long trip to this city she had not once been annoyed and that she believes if a woman will conduct herself properly she is in no danger. From here Miss James first will go to Springfield, Mass., and later will embark at New York with her father for Europe on the way to Manila.

BURNSIDES ARE REVIVED

Strapped Trousers and Scented Handkerchiefs Also Part of Return to 1830 Styles.

New York.—According to the very latest advices from London the newest fashion for men is side whiskers. This is said to be a part of the current English craze for a revival of the costumes of 1830.

It is added that trousers are to be strapped over the boots, and scented handkerchiefs are to be modish for fashionable youths.

Won Bet By Drowning.

Butte, Mont.—Nick Velky, a Macedonian swimmer, wagered his friend T. Suki $10 that he could remain under the waters of the Country Club Lake for thirty minutes. He won the bet, but he will never collect the money for an hour and a half later his body was recovered in six feet of water near the shore, where it had become enmeshed in undergrowth.

LOWER TAX ON SPITE HOUSE

Declares She Purportedly Decreased Property Value in Revenge for Neighbor's Wall.

For when a woman will she will, you may depend on it. And when she won't she won't, and there's an end on't.

Chicago.—Mrs. A. Spiskel, of 523 Alding avenue, asserted in the office of the board of review that she is the sort of woman who will; also she prophesied with some emphasis that the owner of a flat building next door to her apartment house at 447 North Paulina street will discover, to his financial sorrow, just what degree of will she possesses. The bone of contention, in this case is a rough brick wall, which Mrs. Spiskel says her foe put up facing her property, greatly to its detriment.

"He broke the building line and now I am going to break him if I have to take him washing to do it," said Mrs. Spiskel, and her lips became a thin line as she uttered the threat. Reviewer Thomas Webb, who was listening to her plea for a lower assessment, felt no doubt of her sincerity. "That man just laughed when I protested against that wall," said Mrs. Spiskel, "and no I advertised for negro tenants and now my house is full of them. I'm getting less rent and so I live. I'll fight him as long as I live. Eventually my house will be a home for superannuated colored people."

Mrs. Spiskel had photographs of both buildings with her and she finally succeeded in having the valuation of her home reduced from $6,650 to $5,650.

HORSE KICKS UP 148 COINS

Money Discovered in Canada by Ant-mal Believed Lost Eighty Years Ago.

Ogdensburg, N. Y.—A horse kicked a remarkable treasure trove into view on John McEwen's farm on the Canadian side of the St. Lawrence river. Six pieces of silver flew from the horse's hoof when the animal was being driven across a field. The driver jumped into the horse's tracks and, digging with his hands, turned up 148 coins—three Spanish pieces, one British, one five-franc piece, and 143 United States half-dollars.

By English law treasure trove goes to the crown, so the coins have been turned over to the police. They date from 1805 to 1828 and they were found buried in straight rows standing on edge, only three inches under ground. Workmen who built the Rideau canal were paid in American silver, it being part of the indemnity paid by the United States to Great Britain. This money was sent to the canal district in kegs, some of which were stolen and never recovered. It is believed the money found is some of that lost eighty years ago.

CHURCH CLOCKS AS TARGETS

London Steeplejack Says He Has Found Bullet Holes in Many of Them.

London.—With reference to the story telegraphed to the New York Times of the Irishmen of Strabane making a practice of shooting at the dial of the town clock, a well-known steeplejack named Larkins writes to the Daily Mail, pointing out that "sport" of this description is fairly common.

He says that in each of the following buildings he found, while repairing steeples, bullet holes either in the face of the clock or in the weathercock overhead:

East Molesey church, Hampton Court, Flaxley Abbey church, Gloucestershire; Herepore church, Radnor; Llangorwen church, Aberystwyth; Stock church, Ingatestone, Essex; Nevill Holt church, Leicestershire; Withington church, Hereford; Castleary church, Somersetshire; Ayton church, North Berwick; Middleton Chene church, Banbury, and Eaton Bishop church, Herefordshire.

TO BE SUPERIOR TO CHANCE

Man of Necessity Is Made of Right Material When He Can Rise Above Depression.

Some people are thrown off their balance the moment anything goes wrong with them. They do not seem to have the ability to overcome impediments and to do their work in spite of annoyance. Anybody can work when everything goes smoothly, when there is nothing to trouble him; but a man must be made of the right kind of stuff who can rise above the things which annoy, harass and handicap the weak, and do his work in spite of them. Indeed, this is the test of greatness.

As a matter of fact, the greatest achievements in all time have been accomplished by men and women who have been handicapped, annoyed, persecuted, misunderstood, criticized. But they have been great enough to rise above all these things and to do their work in spite of them.

A tremendous power permeates the life and solidifies character from holding perpetually the life-thought, the truth-thought, the cheerful-thought and the secret takes hold of the very fundamental principles of the universe, gets down to the verity of things, excludes all kinds of errors and lives in reality itself. A sense of security, of power, of calmness and of repose comes in the life that is conscious of being enveloped in the very center of truth and reality which can never come to those who live on the surface of things.

Try to visualize the condition of health, happiness and plenty which you long to be yours. The actor does not think that he will sometimes become the character he impersonates, but he assumes that he is the character now; he makes himself feel that he is the character. He actually imagines that he is living the life of the character.

PASTOR SCORES NEW STYLE

Ohio Minister Declares That Men Are Misled in Judging Character by Immodest Attire.

Massillon, Ohio.—Rev. Fenwick W. Fraser of the Presbyterian church, in a statement here, declared that "only one with the shrinking sensitiveness of a rhinoceros could be expected to perambulate about the city in broad daylight in the abbreviated diaphanous garments we have been familiar with since the recent insane edicts of the milling modistes have gone into effect."

In conclusion he says: "There never was a time when it was so difficult to distinguish the good women from the other kind by taking note of what they wear. Highly respected women are actually being accosted by strange men who, misled by their immodest 'fashionable' attire, take them for other than what they really are."

"Christian women might desist from wearing in public costumes which provoke men into infractions of the seventh commandment."

FAMOUS WORK IS SPOILED

Smiling Face of a Boucher Portrait Expires Starving Scamstress and She Dabs It With Ink.

Paris.—"The picture displeased me, and I wished to correct what I considered wrong," answered Mlle. Prolaine Delarue, a scamstress, when charged at the police station with having daubed with red ink the nose and eyes of the portrait in the Louvre of a young woman by the famous eighteenth-century artist, Boucher.

"I was miserable and hungry," she said, "having been unable to find any work. I often go to the Louvre, and the sight of that young woman in the picture with her happy, disdainful smile and luxurious clothes maddened me. I decided to mutilate her hateful face in the hope that perhaps, after that people would notice me and save me from starving."

IF ELECTORS FAIL

Suppose They Do Not Elect Any One for President.

House of Representatives Would Have Next Chance, and If No Candidate Had Majority of States, Vice President Would Occupy White House.

By E. W. PICKARD.

Washington.—Of course your presidential candidate will be elected, but just for the sake of an argument let us suppose the electoral college were so divided that no one candidate received a majority. The possibilities in such a case are interesting.

The fathers of the country who framed the constitution provided that the electors "appointed" by the states should vote on candidates for president and that the one receiving the largest number of votes should be president, and the one getting the next largest should be vice president. This worked very well for the two elections of George Washington, for there was really no opposition to him. But in 1796 John Adams was the candidate of the federalists and Thomas Jefferson of the democrats-republicans, and though Adams was elected president, Jefferson, his leading rival in the politics of the day, received the second largest vote and was seated in the vice presidential chair. This was embarrassing to both of them, and the system was so generally unsatisfactory that the constitution was amended in time for the election of 1804. In accordance with the new plan, which is still followed, the electors vote for president and vice president by separate ballots and a majority is required in each case.

If no candidate for president has a majority vote in the electoral college, the house of representatives is required to proceed at once to elect a president from the leading candidates, not to exceed three in number. The house must vote by states, each state having one vote. Similarly, if the electors fail to elect a vice president, the senate chooses a man for the place from the two leading candidates. John Quincy Adams was elected president by the house in 1824.

Now come in some of the interesting possibilities of this most interesting political year. Republicans and Democrats alike declare that they expect to capture a majority of the electoral college, and the Progressives are not behind the older parties in their claims. If the results of the election bear out the predictions of the managers of these three parties to any considerable degree, it is easy to imagine the electoral college so divided that no one will have the requisite majority. This would throw the election into the house of representatives, and again it would be no severe strain on one's imagination to fancy the house also about equally divided among the three candidates. For instance, though this is not a political prophecy, suppose the state delegations, voting as units, stood as follows:

For Wilson—Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, New Jersey, New Mexico, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia—16.
For Taft—Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont, Wyoming—16.
For Roosevelt—California, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin—16.

That, or any division anywhere near it, would result in a beautiful deadlock, for the constitution says a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice, though a quorum consists of a member or members from two-thirds of the states.

Again quoting from the Twelfth amendment: "And if the house of representatives shall not choose a president whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the vice president shall act as president as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the president."

Now, while the house was trying in vain to elect a president, the senate would be choosing the vice-president, and for this purpose the senators vote as individuals, two-thirds of them being a quorum and a majority of the whole number necessary to a choice. They are restricted in their choice to the two who received the highest vote in the electoral college, and still for the sake of argument we will take it for granted that James Schoolcraft Sherman would be one of those two. Whom do you suppose the senate, as at present constituted, would select? Mr. Sherman, possibly, and there would be "Sunny Jim" planted in the White House as chief magistrate of the United States for four years! Whoever expected that?

Of course the Progressives in the senate might combine with the Democrats and elect Governor Marshall of Indiana. Or, again, the Democratic senators might find their chance to defeat their old time rivals by, in a combination with the Progressives and the election of Hiram Johnson of California, would be the result. And we have the word of Colonel Roosevelt that Governor Johnson is of real presidential caliber. Only it must be borne in mind that the vice presidential candidate who runs third in the electoral college is out of the race for good.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO
NAVY YARD EMPLOYEES

Forced Vacation.

Five Shipwrights and five shill-makers of the hull division were furloughed for a period of thirty days on Wednesday owing to lack of work.

Zack a Busy Man

Zack Randall of the general store is attending the Rochester fair today. He has been required to travel extensively of late owing to social and political affiliations. His fellow workmen at the yard will be much pleased when the political campaign is ended as it will curtail his requirements to a great extent. He has recently returned from a trip to Loon Cove, Suncook, and Ipswich and was a visitor to Canobie Lake prior to the democratic National Convention, where he had an extended talk with Champ Clark, who was one of the Presidential candidates at that time. He will have many reminiscences to relate on his arrival back from the fair.

Arrive Here on Oct. 15.

Sgt. Meyer of the navy informed The Herald on Wednesday that the San Francisco and Petrel will arrive here on Oct. 15.

Naval Movements

The Princeton has arrived at Sydney the Albany at Olongapo, the Jovett at New York City, the Potomac at Norfolk, the P-3 at Seattle and the Rhode Island, Nebraska, New Jersey, Idaho, Celtic, Lebanon and Cyclops at Newport.

New Engineer Officer.

Lieut. Lea. F. Welch, has reported for duty at the yard in the machinery division.

Let Us Have More of It.

The recent order authorizing the manufacture of electric fittings for the U. S. S. New York at this yard is no small item of work for the machinery division foundry.
